The Historical Development of "Feng"

In our video, we describe a student who has to write about the evolution of the Chinese character "鳳(Feng)" but has no idea what to write. However, when she falls asleep, she dreams that she discovers the whole development of "鳳(Feng)" and finishes her homework right after she wakes up. We use iconic items from each period to write out the various scripts of Chinese characters, showcasing the rich and complex history of their development.

Our Inspiration:

We found the historical development of Chinese characters fascinating, so we chose the character "鳳" from our school's name to showcase in our video.
