

Seaford Head Stories

“on the way”

“We have used a variety of languages in our poem to explore how words can come in many different forms.”

“Sometimes people make you feel like you do not fully belong, even if it is the only home you have ever known. However it also shows the new experiences formed, about then finding people who make you feel like you belong.”

“Language does not have to be a divider, and that through stories and books we can all undertake the same journey.”
